President's Report for 19 August

Things are now finally starting to settle after a frenetic month with the lead up to and subsequent visit of the DG visit; the opening of the ANZAC Centenary Walkway, and the first Board meeting for Rotary Year 15-16 that was conducted on a Saturday morning. Although there are many members of the Club away, there is still much happening in the background. For example, David Nelson has taken on the task as lead editor of the Club Handbook, which is essentially a detailed aggregation of standard operating procedures for all known activities and recurring tasks the Club conducts.

Last week's meeting was graced with a presentation from Jeff Guy on his adventures on the high seas over 112 days.

Next week was due to be the first forum for the year however with so many members away, it has been decided to move it to September when the majority of the Club will be back on deck.

For those not travelling, looking forward to catching up this Wednesday night for a social night and a break Club business.

Kind regards

Sean Darbyshire
